

Anderson's Wear-Easy Shoe.....

is a shoe made especially for farm use and that will wear "as easy as an old shoe" right from the start. A shoe in which there is not a peg or nail or thread to touch the bottom of the foot. A shoe that is almost as soft and flexible as a lady's hand turned. A shoe with a pure white oak innersole that is cooling to the bottom of the foot; all other every day shoes are made with cheap acid tanned red leather innersoles that burn, scald and blister the feet so badly in hot weather. A shoe that will give more comfort for general farm use than any shoe that has ever been gotten up.

We keep this shoe
in Buckle and Congress & the price is $1.50

Sizes 6 to 13.

J. H. Anderson & Co.

Store closes at 7 p. m. Except Saturdays.

Petree & Co.'s

$1.50
Leader

A
Ladies
Fine Shoe

Made of Fine
Dongola Stock

Stylish in all its details and Guaranteed to Wear Well.

PETREE & CO.

EXCLUSIVE AGENTS.

HERE IS NEWS.

Many Local Matters of General Interest.

Births, Marriages, Deaths and Miscellaneous Happenings.

GOOD MAN DEAD.

Fatal Termination To The Illness of Mr. Jno. C. Gary, Sr.

Mr. Jno. C. Gary, Sr., died Sunday at his home near the city after a long illness of dropsy. He was born Dec. 26, 1823, and was in his 76th year.

Mr. Gary was one of the most prominent and substantial citizens of the county and was a consistent member of the Baptist church. He leaves two daughters and three sons. They are Mrs. Jas. A. Major, Mrs. M. C. Forbes and Messrs. John C. Robt. C. and Geo. E. Gary, all of this city and vicinity.

The funeral services were held yesterday morning and the interment took place in the family graveyard near this city.

GREGORY-WATSON.

Crofton Couple Will Wed This Afternoon at Bride's Home.

A pretty wedding will be solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, near Crofton, at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The contracting parties are Mr. V. S. Gregory and Miss Annie Watson. Only a limited number of the most intimate friends of the young people will witness the ceremony.

THIRTEEN FINGERS.

Bud Tanner's Baby Has Fingers and Toes to Burn.

Bud Tanner's wife gave birth to a girl child near Fruit Hill a few days ago that has twelve toes and thirteen fingers. On each foot there are six toes and on the right hand there are six fingers and a thumb. The left hand has six fingers, including the thumb. The child is a strong, healthy infant and is doing well in spite of its surplus digits.

COURT ADJOURS.

Considerable Business Done, But no Important Cases Tried.

The June term of Circuit Court closed last Friday. Considerable business was disposed of during the four weeks' session, but no cases of much importance to the public were tried. Of the 40 divorce suits on the docket about 75 per cent. of them were passed upon. All of these causes but one were filed by colored people.

CITY COURT.

Several Cases Passed Upon By Judge Leavell.

Frank Bird was fined $5 for using profane language.

John Winston, col., vagrancy, 21 days in the work house.

Jesse Tucker, col., charged with highway robbery, was held over to Circuit Court and bond was fixed at $50.

TRIGG COUNTY INSTITUTE.

In Progress at Cadiz With Prof. Cherry in Charge.

Prof. Cherry, of Bowling Green, passed through the city Sunday enroute to Cadiz where he is this week conducting the Trigg County Teachers' Institute. Prof. Cherry is one of the principal of the Cherry Bros' business college and is a teacher of wide influence and high professional attainments.

MURDER OR SUICIDE.

Negro Woman Found Dead In Trigg County.

Jim Bush Under Arrest Charged With Shooting Her In The Side.

Sallie Wilson, a colored woman 25 years old, was found dead in a cabin on George Ledford's farm near Roaring Springs, Saturday night, with a pistol shot wound in her left side.

Jim Bush, it is said, admitted that he was in the house with her when the shooting occurred and said the woman committed suicide. Suspicion, however, pointed so strongly to him, that he was arrested Sunday after an inquest was held by Esq. W. G. Blaine and taken to jail at Cadiz. His examining trial has not been held yet.

The woman had been married to Peter Thacker, but had been separated from her husband for some time.

FOUR NEW SUITS.

Three For Divorce and One Against the L. & N.

Mary M. Hogan desires the bonds of matrimony existing between herself and John Hogan dissolved. They were married in June '97 and plaintiff charges that defendant abandoned her in the following September.

Kitty Boyd asks that a divorce from her husband, T. H. Boyd, be granted. They have been married twelve years, but separated, the petition states, soon after the wedding.

Ida Vertrees sues for divorce from Edward Vertrees, alleging abandonment.

Aaron Green has filed suit against the L. & N. railroad company for $1,000 damages. Green alleges that he was put off one of the company's trains just north of this city a few weeks ago, the conductor refusing to honor his ticket. He further alleges that when the money was tendered the conductor to pay passage to Empire, it was also refused. He claims that he was then ejected from the train and was compelled to walk back to this city.

RAILROADS WIN.

The Long and Short Haul Cases Decided In Their Favor.

Louisville, Ky., June 29.—The railroad commission has decided in favor of the railroads in the long and short haul cases.

The decision is in effect that wherever the maintenance of the same rate for long and short hauls operates so as to make it impossible for Kentucky industries and products to compete with those of other States the railroads will be allowed to maintain lower rates for the long haul. The decision also exonerates the Illinois Central from the operation of the Court of Appeals ruling so far as it applies to the Elizabeth town cases. The decision of the Court of Appeals upheld the long and short haul regulations.

Death of an Infant.

An infant of Colonel Porter died in the city Saturday night and the remains were taken to Todd County Sunday and interred in the afternoon, near Elkhorn.

SCROFULA

thin blood, weak lungs and paleness. You have them in hot weather as well as in cold. SCOTT'S EMULSION cure them in summer as in winter. It is creamy looking and pleasant tasting.

soc. and $1.00 all druggists.

Remodel Sale!

SPECIAL BARGAINS FOR THIS WEEK.

2000 yards Percal, full standard cloth, actually a 10-cent quality, we offer at : 6 1-2

Our beautiful line colored French Organdies prices cut half in two; don't you want some of them? They are a "snap."

Get in the push and procure some of the genuine bargains we are offering in our Remodel Sale. Everything in our house at actual cost.

1200 BOOKS, standard authors, strongly and neatly bound, at almost-give-them-away prices 7, 11, 17, and 27 cents each. Fill your library now its a cinch.

Remember we offer in this sale everything in our house at actual cost, nothing reserved.

Dress Goods, Dress Goods, Silks, Silks, we are offering our entire stock at less than manufacturers cost. Don't you want some of these bargains, if so, don't delay.

Another lot Scotch Lawns fast colors, good styles, 3 cents.

Our stock of shoes, hats and furnishing goods of every description are included in this sale. You can save 33 1-3 per cent by buying from us now.

Don't forget that we offer everything in our house at actual cost, and many things far below cost, and that the above items are only an index to the many hundreds of bargains of money-saving-moment to you in Dry Goods, Notions, Millinery, Carpets, Furnishing Goods, Shoes, etc.

This stock must be reduced and reduced quickly. Wouldn't you like to share in this opportunity to save money.

THE RICHARDS CO.

WERE TOUCHED.

Several Henderson Delegates Robbed of Money and Valuables in Louisville.

Last Wednesday night several of the Henderson county delegates who were staying at the private boarding house of Mrs. Harding on Sixth street in Louisville, were robbed of money and valuables. Also the landlady was robbed of $20 in cash.

Col. S. A. Young was touched for some $30 or $40 in money and a fine gold watch that he valued very highly. M. A. Ruggles was robbed of $5 in money and his partner, A. O. Stanley, was deprived of a small watch.—Gleaner.

A NEW MAN

Will Help Keep Track of The Growing Telephone Business.

Mr. Maddux, manager of the Cumberland Telephone Company in this city, has secured the addition of another man to the working force here. A young man named Hay will arrive this week and take the position of instrument inspector. The exchange here now numbers 325 subscribers and is growing every month. Beginning on the first of the present month, Kennedy, Longview, Oak Grove, Elmo, Bell and Casky will be on the local exchange list and no longer toll stations.

ROSE-LEWIS

Pembroke People Will Take The Marriage Vows Tomorrow.

Mr. Price G. Rose and Miss Chassie G. Lewis, well known people of the Pembroke neighborhood, will be united in marriage at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The ceremony will be pronounced by Elder T. D. Moore, of this city. The marriage will take place at the home of the bride's parents.

YOUNGSTERS ELOPE.

Maggie Golden, Age 12, and Gid Broncombe, Age 17.

Middlesboro, Ky., June 30.—Maggie Golden, age 12, and Gid Broncombe, age 17, eloped to Tennessee this morning, and were married by Rev. Golden, the 80 year old grandfather of the bride.

Rev. Ewing Dead.

Rev. Charles Ewing, rector of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Uniontown, Ky., died of ptomaine poisoning at the home of his brother-in-law, J. W. Kerwin, in Crisfield, Ind., last Friday night. He was ill only a few hours.

THE NEW AMERICAN.

America! Inspiring theme!
Immortal goddess crowned
With Jewels brought from every stream,
Thee sing the world around.

'Gainst foreign foe thy sturdy sons
Have never known defeat;
And North and South, behold their guns
Stacked at the Nation's feet!

They eldest, born at Bunker Hill,
With flowing locks of gray
Stood stern beside the youth of will
At Santiago bay.

"Fourth of July!" o'er the main
The Union liners roared.
"For liberty make way!" again
The song to heaven soared.

Swift onward to the farthest shore
The grateful message ran,
While all the world bowed low before
The true American.

"I fight to free my brother brave,"
Said Washington, "And I,
To free my brother who is slave."
Was Lincoln's loftier cry.

But loftier still from Cuban coast
The blessed challenge rose:
"We fight that strangers may be free,
All tyrants are our foes!"

And onward still to every clime,
Where'er a river runs
That cars may sweep in martial time,
Shall go our men and guns.

While over them shall break and float
The banner of the free,
Till all the sons of earth shall vote
Full supremacy.

Then shall the heaven-born symbol hold
No hint of tear or sigh,
But only God's great promise told
To man from Sinai.

CHARLES EUGENE BANKS.

THE CAPTAIN'S FOURTH

A Story of 1899

By T. C. HARBAUGH.

CAPT. CHEVERS, of the gallant ship from Manila, sat on the porch of the old home with a newspaper about to fall from his hand. He had some face, banded by service under a tropic sun, revealed little of physical suffering, and he looked across the stretch of lovely country visible beyond the stately climes which had been long before the old-fashioned house, his thoughts went back to the days when, as boy, he played there and life was full of carelessness.

The door behind him opened so softly that he did not hear it, nor the footsteps which came, gazelle-like, to his chair. When he looked up it was to gaze into the face of a fair girl whose hand had fallen lightly upon his shoulder.

"You remember you asked about Tracy yesterday?" said the young maid.

"Oh, yes, Tracy Wordsworth," said the captain, "but you were crestfallen."

Did the young girl believe the captain? She seemed to smile and for a moment her gaze wandered from him.

"I have just found one of her letters—one she wrote me last winter."

"Ah!" The last one I got from her, I believe. She mentions you in it."

The captain was crestfallen.

The door behind him opened so softly that he did not hear it, nor the footsteps which came, gazelle-like, to his chair. When he looked up it was to gaze into the face of a fair girl whose hand had fallen lightly upon his shoulder.

"Tracy, I believe, is every man a hero because he does his duty?"

"And they've got an interesting program," said Jackson, "and I think it's grand—"

"Judge Somers wants to do the grand sashie part of it, and you know what he can do. The West Milton quartette is to sing, and they've promised a patriotic song from a young lady who has not been heard of since the war. She will come here on visit that night."

"So walk up to the trenches, captain. I'll stand by you through thick and thin."

Capt. Chevers nodded to Harriet, but the young girl, who had a great deal of confidence in her soldier comrade, urged him to accept the invitation extended through Jackson, and at last in sheer desperation he agreed to do so.

Practically the programme committee waited on him officially, and he permitted himself to be escorted to the speakers' stand. This was an elaborately decorated affair, and over it all hung the public banner which Harriet was fastening.

The young captain was given an ovation as he walked to the seat assigned him, and a look toward Harriet, who was watching the proceedings from the carriage.

"That was queer," he said to himself, as he kicked the newspaper away from his feet. "I was thinking about Tracy myself, and there Harriet recurred in her cheerful, seminimous way. It's not the first time I've thought of her lately, but phew! that's all."

He rose and entered the house, to repeat on the piano the old tunes late at night, or early in the morning for the ride over the hills, Tracy came out just as the carriage was roughly round and the two cousins settled themselves in it while John took up the reins.

The noise of the celebrants now came over the hill with more distinctness, and the captain laughingly said that it reminded him not a trifle of military life. The ride was not long, however, before the chug and chug, and the carriage pulled in at the main street of the western village. "The liberty pole," soon to be raised with appropriate ceremonies, lay on the ground receiving the greeting touches, and the captain was warmly greeted by old friends the moment he began to speak.

Such singing was a revelation to every one who listened; never before had the words of Key's immortal anthem thrilled them as uniformly as they did. The girls sang with very high voices which had been twittering in the shade trees paid tribute to her with silence, and no one stirred until the last word had died upon her lips.

Then the audience cheered burst forth and as she turned away, blushing beneath her wonderful triumph, Capt. Chevers started to his feet.

"Tracy—Miss Wordsworth!" he exclaimed. "What a fool I am, anyhow," he continued, sotto voce. "I'm another Tracy!"

But the tall girl had faced, and he and the hero of Manila stood face to face.

"I'm sorry to tell you that you're singing, Tracy—pardon me, Miss Wordsworth," said the stammering captain. "It was superb, matchless. You used to sing so well at Lorette school, you know, when we were at school together, and I used to dream of the girl. She held out her hand. "You don't imagine that I have forgotten those days, I hope?"

The occupants of the platform were now quieting it, as the noise with the last feature of very special interest.

"I see you've captured another prisoner, captain," laughed Jackson, cavalierly.

"I'm up to it, captain," irrepressible Jackson broke in. "It's a great Fourth for you, I imagine. Glad you came, eh? Well, good old Jackson."

In the excitement attendant on the pole raising Capt. Chevers did not participate; as Jackson remarked to a friend, he had been banished upon "another campaign," and "Cousin Harriet" was to be furnished a good dose of the amusement.

When the events of the day were over and the star-spangled banner floated from the top of the tallest liberty pole in Miami town, Capt. Chevers drove home, with Miss Wordsworth as Cousin Harriet's guest.

Everything is pleasant at Orchard Knob, and the captain is surprised to find that Tracy Wordsworth has decided to prolong her stay among friends in the east, not that Capt. Chevers is looking forward to a happy future which he dates from the last "glorious Fourth of July."

"There's no danger of Harriet disgracing the family by saying something like 'I do,' and he used to be good at stump speeches, too," she remarked to Jackson, who had taken his station alongside the car, for the purpose of conversing with her.

Judge Somers made a smiling addendum to the earnest patriotic address to which the large audience listened with manifest impatience, for all knew that Capt. Chevers, just home from the war, would have something to say at a living hero is better than a dead lion at any time.

By and by the mayor of the village rose and said, as he waved his hand toward the speaker:

"Ladies and Gentlemen: We have with us to-day one of the heroes of the late war with Spain, a gallant citizen whom you all know, and who fought with the valiant heroes of Dewey and who was the first to raise Old Glory upon the ramparts of the enemy. We love to honor our heroes, and this one, whom Hampton is proud to call his own because his boyhood days were spent in the service of his country, we welcome him with open arms upon this auspicious occasion. Ladies and gentlemen, Capt. Harold Chevers, the hero of Manila!"

The captain, who had been so eloquent, had called blushing to the cheek of an admiring and, the captain's face crimsoned as he arose, which was a signal for more cheering.

He never knew how he started; for a moment he was at a loss for words, then, as if suddenly inspired, he began to tell the story of Manila, modestly omitting an account of

"I wonder?" marveled Honest Jem, staring. "Crops coming right, portion gal in Chester good as him, and him blue as indigo!"

"I can tell!" said Jem, pointing to one of his fellow celebrants of the morrow.

"Can you?" challenged Jem.

"Yes. They say Graham has lost the farm—hit in the purse—in the prairie-dog country."

"Sh!" goggled Jem.

"They say that party Nellie Mason's father has stamped on the floor of his office, and no pauper shall ever sit in his office again." "A suttin document the farm passes to that miserly half-uncle of his."

"That's his coming to an end!" gasped Honest Jem.

"It was true; like a bolt from the blue there had come to the ambitious young farmer a shock that thrilled, then prostrated.

In a fit of life's bright pictures he had closed his eyes.

The accredited owner of Spring farm was informed that a large claim was put up by his half-uncle, supposed to have been paid, yet the old man had withdrawn and finally withdrawn for written proof of his settlement.

"That's why he won't celebrate no Fourth of July this year," observed Jem's informant, departing. "He's got to vacate, and he's got to leave, and he's got to go."

"Poor lad!" sighed Jem. "Drat the stuff. I've no heart left in me!" and he drew from his pocket a two-pound package of "celebration"炮仗 (firecrackers).

"Hey! I reckon I'll have to show the present to him!"

Jem moved a ladder to an oil-painted outhouse, ascended, and pushed the pack of gunpowder up under the eaves. Three sharp cracks cracked the shingles he set it over the hole he directed.

"Safe till morn," he rummited. "I'd sell it cheap." Feel like sitting in the churchyard, instead of celebrating, thinking over my past, I suppose."

"Presently opinions he's a scheming fox, and Graham's being cheated out of home, gal and happiness!"

Boom! From a distant cannon—Fourth of July had come!

Bang! That was nearer—Fourth of July seemed right at the door of Spring farm.

The house shook. At the resounding explosion, Jem hurried outside, to join Captain Chevers.

"THANK YOU, CAPT. CHEVERS."

His voice hoarse. It was a story that chilled every one, and when he closed with a spindly peroration which was, in fact, an apostrophe to the American flag, the enthusiasm of the crowd was unbound.

John took up the chair he had occupied during the massing of the crowd, and the name of ceremony announced that Miss Wordsworth from the west would sing the "Star-Spangled Banner."

Capt. Chevers started at the name and sprang to his feet, then, with a glad heart, advanced from one end of the platform and stood before the people. He could not see her face, for it was slightly turned away, and then he settled back as her musical voice began to fill the nation.

She seemed to stand spellbound. Such singing was a revelation to every one who listened; never before had the words of Key's immortal anthem thrilled them as uniformly as they did. The girls sang with very high voices which had been twittering in the shade trees paid tribute to her with silence, and no one stirred until the last word had died upon her lips.

Then the audience cheered burst forth and as she turned away, blushing beneath her wonderful triumph, Capt. Chevers started to his feet.

"Tracy—Miss Wordsworth!" he exclaimed. "What a fool I am, anyhow," he continued, sotto voce. "I'm another Tracy!"

But the tall girl had faced, and he and the hero of Manila stood face to face.

"I'm sorry to tell you that you're singing, Tracy—pardon me, Miss Wordsworth," said the stammering captain. "It was superb, matchless. You used to sing so well at Lorette school, you know, when we were at school together, and I used to dream of the girl. She held out her hand. "You don't imagine that I have forgotten those days, I hope?"

The occupants of the platform were now quieting it, as the noise with the last feature of very special interest.

"I see you've captured another prisoner, captain," laughed Jackson, cavalierly.

"I'm up to it, captain," irrepressible Jackson broke in. "It's a great Fourth for you, I imagine. Glad you came, eh? Well, good old Jackson."

In the excitement attendant on the pole raising Capt. Chevers did not participate; as Jackson remarked to a friend, he had been banished upon "another campaign," and "Cousin Harriet" was to be furnished a good dose of the amusement.

When the events of the day were over and the star-spangled banner floated from the top of the tallest liberty pole in Miami town, Capt. Chevers drove home, with Miss Wordsworth as Cousin Harriet's guest.

Everything is pleasant at Orchard Knob, and the captain is surprised to find that Tracy Wordsworth has decided to prolong her stay among friends in the east, not that Capt. Chevers is looking forward to a happy future which he dates from the last "glorious Fourth of July."

He never knew how he started; for a moment he was at a loss for words, then, as if suddenly inspired, he began to tell the story of Manila, modestly omitting an account of

"I wonder?" marveled Honest Jem, staring. "Crops coming right, portion gal in Chester good as him, and him blue as indigo!"

"I can tell!" said Jem, pointing to one of his fellow celebrants of the morrow.

"Can you?" challenged Jem.

"Yes. They say Graham has lost the farm—hit in the purse—in the prairie-dog country."

"Sh!" goggled Jem.

"They say that party Nellie Mason's father has stamped on the floor of his office, and no pauper shall ever sit in his office again." "A suttin document the farm passes to that miserly half-uncle of his."

"That's his coming to an end!" gasped Honest Jem.

"It was true; like a bolt from the blue there had come to the ambitious young farmer a shock that thrilled, then prostrated.

In a fit of life's bright pictures he had closed his eyes.

The accredited owner of Spring farm was informed that a large claim was put up by his half-uncle, supposed to have been paid, yet the old man had withdrawn and finally withdrawn for written proof of his settlement.

"That's why he won't celebrate no Fourth of July this year," observed Jem's informant, departing.

"Presently opinions he's a scheming fox, and Graham's being cheated out of home, gal and happiness!"

"I'd sell it cheap." Feel like sitting in the churchyard, instead of celebrating, thinking over my past, I suppose."

He never knew how he started; for a moment he was at a loss for words, then, as if suddenly inspired, he began to tell the story of Manila, modestly omitting an account of

"I wonder?" marveled Honest Jem, staring. "Crops coming right, portion gal in Chester good as him, and him blue as indigo!"

"I can tell!" said Jem, pointing to one of his fellow celebrants of the morrow.

"Can you?" challenged Jem.

"Yes. They say Graham has lost the farm—hit in the purse—in the prairie-dog country."

"Sh!" goggled Jem.

"They say that party Nellie Mason's father has stamped on the floor of his office, and no pauper shall ever sit in his office again." "A suttin document the farm passes to that miserly half-uncle of his."

"That's his coming to an end!" gasped Honest Jem.

"It was true; like a bolt from the blue there had come to the ambitious young farmer a shock that thrilled, then prostrated.

In a fit of life's bright pictures he had closed his eyes.

The accredited owner of Spring farm was informed that a large claim was put up by his half-uncle, supposed to have been paid, yet the old man had withdrawn and finally withdrawn for written proof of his settlement.

"That's why he won't celebrate no Fourth of July this year," observed Jem's informant, departing.

"Presently opinions he's a scheming fox, and Graham's being cheated out of home, gal and happiness!"

"I'd sell it cheap." Feel like sitting in the churchyard, instead of celebrating, thinking over my past, I suppose."

He never knew how he started; for a moment he was at a loss for words, then, as if suddenly inspired, he began to tell the story of Manila, modestly omitting an account of

"I wonder?" marveled Honest Jem, staring. "Crops coming right, portion gal in Chester good as him, and him blue as indigo!"

"I can tell!" said Jem, pointing to one of his fellow celebrants of the morrow.

"Can you?" challenged Jem.

"Yes. They say Graham has lost the farm—hit in the purse—in the prairie-dog country."

"Sh!" goggled Jem.

"They say that party Nellie Mason's father has stamped on the floor of his office, and no pauper shall ever sit in his office again." "A suttin document the farm passes to that miserly half-uncle of his."

"That's his coming to an end!" gasped Honest Jem.

"It was true; like a bolt from the blue there had come to the ambitious young farmer a shock that thrilled, then prostrated.

In a fit of life's bright pictures he had closed his eyes.

The accredited owner of Spring farm was informed that a large claim was put up by his half-uncle, supposed to have been paid, yet the old man had withdrawn and finally withdrawn for written proof of his settlement.

"That's why he won't celebrate no Fourth of July this year," observed Jem's informant, departing.

"Presently opinions he's a scheming fox, and Graham's being cheated out of home, gal and happiness!"

"I'd sell it cheap." Feel like sitting in the churchyard, instead of celebrating, thinking over my past, I suppose."

He never knew how he started; for a moment he was at a loss for words, then, as if suddenly inspired, he began to tell the story of Manila, modestly omitting an account of

"I wonder?" marveled Honest Jem, staring. "Crops coming right, portion gal in Chester good as him, and him blue as indigo!"

"I can tell!" said Jem, pointing to one of his fellow celebrants of the morrow.

"Can you?" challenged Jem.

"Yes. They say Graham has lost the farm—hit in the purse—in the prairie-dog country."

"Sh!" goggled Jem.

"They say that party Nellie Mason's father has stamped on the floor of his office, and no pauper shall ever sit in his office again." "A suttin document the farm passes to that miserly half-uncle of his."

"That's his coming to an end!" gasped Honest Jem.

"It was true; like a bolt from the blue there had come to the ambitious young farmer a shock that thrilled, then prostrated.

In a fit of life's bright pictures he had closed his eyes.

The accredited owner of Spring farm was informed that a large claim was put up by his half-uncle, supposed to have been paid, yet the old man had withdrawn and finally withdrawn for written proof of his settlement.

"That's why he won't celebrate no Fourth of July this year," observed Jem's informant, departing.

"Presently opinions he's a scheming fox, and Graham's being cheated out of home, gal and happiness!"

"I'd sell it cheap." Feel like sitting in the churchyard, instead of celebrating, thinking over my past, I suppose."

He never knew how he started; for a moment he was at a loss for words, then, as if suddenly inspired, he began to tell the story of Manila, modestly omitting an account of

"I wonder?" marveled Honest Jem, staring. "Crops coming right, portion gal in Chester good as him, and him blue as indigo!"

"I can tell!" said Jem, pointing to one of his fellow celebrants of the morrow.

"Can you?" challenged Jem.

"Yes. They say Graham has lost the farm—hit in the purse—in the prairie-dog country."

"Sh!" goggled Jem.

"They say that party Nellie Mason's father has stamped on the floor of his office, and no pauper shall ever sit in his office again." "A suttin document the farm passes to that miserly half-uncle of his."

"That's his coming to an end!" gasped Honest Jem.

"It was true; like a bolt from the blue there had come to the ambitious young farmer a shock that thrilled, then prostrated.

In a fit of life's bright pictures he had closed his eyes.

The accredited owner of Spring farm was informed that a large claim was put up by his half-uncle, supposed to have been paid, yet the old man had withdrawn and finally withdrawn for written proof of his settlement.

"That's why he won't celebrate no Fourth of July this year," observed Jem's informant, departing.

"Presently opinions he's a scheming fox, and Graham's being cheated out of home, gal and happiness!"

"I'd sell it cheap." Feel like sitting in the churchyard, instead of celebrating, thinking over my past, I suppose."

He never knew how he started; for a moment he was at a loss for words, then, as if suddenly inspired, he began to tell the story of Manila, modestly omitting an account of

"I wonder?" marveled Honest Jem, staring. "Crops coming right, portion gal in Chester good as him, and him blue as indigo!"

"I can tell!" said Jem, pointing to one of his fellow celebrants of the morrow.

"Can you?" challenged Jem.

"Yes. They say Graham has lost the farm—hit in the purse—in the prairie-dog country."

"Sh!" goggled Jem.

"They say that party Nellie Mason's father has stamped on the floor of his office, and no pauper shall ever sit in his office again." "A suttin document the farm passes to that miserly half-uncle of his."

"That's his coming to an end!" gasped Honest Jem.

"It was true; like a bolt from the blue there had come to the ambitious young farmer a shock that thrilled, then prostrated.

In a fit of life's bright pictures he had closed his eyes.

The accredited owner of Spring farm was informed that a large claim was put up by his half-uncle, supposed to have been paid, yet the old man had withdrawn and finally withdrawn for written proof of his settlement.

"That's why he won't celebrate no Fourth of July this year," observed Jem's informant, departing.

"Presently opinions he's a scheming fox, and Graham's being cheated out of home, gal and happiness!"

"I'd sell it cheap." Feel like sitting in the churchyard, instead of celebrating, thinking over my past, I suppose."

He never knew how he started; for a moment he was at a loss for words, then, as if suddenly inspired, he began to tell the story of Manila, modestly omitting an account of

"I wonder?" marveled Honest Jem, staring. "Crops coming right, portion gal in Chester good as him, and him blue as indigo!"

"I can tell!" said Jem, pointing to one of his fellow celebrants of the morrow.

"Can you?" challenged Jem.

"Yes. They say Graham has lost the farm—hit in the purse—in the prairie-dog country."

"Sh!" goggled Jem.

"They say that party Nellie Mason's father has stamped on the floor of his office, and no pauper shall ever sit in his office again." "A suttin document the farm passes to that miserly half-uncle of his."

"That's his coming to an end!" gasped Honest Jem.

"It was true; like a bolt from the blue there had come to the ambitious young farmer a shock that thrilled, then prostrated.

In a fit of life's bright pictures he had closed his eyes.

The accredited owner of Spring farm was informed that a large claim was put up by his half-uncle, supposed to have been paid, yet the old man had withdrawn and finally withdrawn for written proof of his settlement.

"That's why he won't celebrate no Fourth of July this year," observed Jem's informant, departing.

PLANTATION CHILL CURE is Guaranteed.

SOLD BY R. C. HARDWICK, HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

If it fails to cure go to your merchant
AND GET YOUR MONEY BACK.
We will refund to him. Price 50 cts.
VAN VLEET-MANSFIELD DRUG CO.,
Sole Proprietors.
MEMPHIS, TENN.

COWPEAS.

A Poor Man's Bank—Points About Cultivation—An Excellent Forage Plant.

Cowpeas are not, as their name naturally implies, peas, but are really beans, as indicated by the shape of the seed, and as their habit and growth also indicate. How they got the name of peas is a mooted question. The United States Agricultural Department has issued a bulletin, reprinted from their year book, for 1896, on "cowpeas," in which it is stated that cowpeas "belong to the genus Vigna, the members of which are largely represented in South Africa and are closely related to the lablab, lima and haricot beans of our gardens, as well as to numerous cultivated or wild garden sorts common in tropical Asia and America, but little known to us." There are apparently many varieties of cowbeans, and as "sports" often appear in their culture, new names are constantly being added. This variation from chosen types is constantly going on. Hence one variety may be cultivated in several locations under different names. The habit of growth varies somewhat with location. A cowpea that in the North grows in bush form, will soon in the South become a trailing or running sort. In either case the plant, it seems, gradually accommodates itself to the requirements of the section or season wherein it is growing.

"A field of cowpeas," says the bulletin previously referred to, "has been very happily designated the poor man's bank, for in common with all its leguminous congeners the field pea, clovers, alfalfa and a dozen others, this crop has the power of increasing the fertility of the soil upon which it grows. The man in yield with lowpriced crops, such as corn, cotton, cowpeas and the grasses, using high grade and costly fertilizers, is not commensurate with the additional expense. But every farmer, rich and poor, has over three thousand tons of atmospheric nitrogen resting on every acre of his farm, a certain quantity of which can be transformed into available plant food every time that he grows a crop of cowpeas, red clover or alfalfa."

"To maintain the fertility of any soil the amount of humus or decaying organic matter in it must be kept up."

"The average soils need more humus. It can best be supplied by sowing more grass, more permanent pasture lands, more leguminous crops. In a word, plant cowpeas." In relation to raising cowpea forage:

"There is no forage plant better adapted to the needs and conditions of Southern agriculture than this rank, free-growing annual. It will thrive luxuriantly upon the rich, swampy, cane lands of Louisiana. On the driest and most sterile worn out uplands it serves the admirable purpose of supplying a larger quantity and better quality of clover than any other bean or clover. And whenever a crop of cowpeas has been taken off a field the surface soil is left, richer by a good many pounds of that most costly plant food, nitrogen. The roots of the cowpea enter deeply into the soil, opening and loosening it far down for the benefit of the roots of the succeeding crops of corn, cotton and tobacco. It has been found by experiment that the fertilizing value of the roots and stubble of the cowpeas are very considerable, not as great as that of the hay removed from the field. The best and most economical use of this forage crop, is, then, to cut for hay, feed to stock and return the stable manure to the soil. Plowing the whole crop under is less remunerative because there is no waste of the muscle making and fat performing constituents of the plant which would bring more profit if turned into beef, pork, wool, cheese or butter."

"As regards the disposal of the crop, there is a wide variation in practice. The feeding value of vines is great. But as between the practice of turning the vines under green in autumn and that of allowing them to lie on the ground during the winter, the latter is undoubtedly sometimes to be preferred, though theoretically wrong. Theoretically, to plow the vines under in autumn will be to save all the available nitrogen and convert the whole plant into humus. Practically, the turning under of so large an amount of watery green herbage, is highly injurious, causing too rapid decay and consequent burning or souring of the soil. The upper soil layers, freshly stirred and mellowed in autumn, lose more by leaching and washing than they do in an unplowed field covered by its winter mulch of decaying herbage, though in both cases there is a decided loss of fertility over what would result by following the peas with a crop of rye, winter wheat, the turf-forming winter vetch, or crimson clover. The yields of forage are better on rich soils than on poor ones, but the beneficial effects upon the succeeding crop due to the growth of this one are not so marked in the former case as in the latter."

A proper liming of the soil, when the crop has been turned under, is quite sure to obviate all danger of "sonness." If the turning under is delayed as it should be, until the seed pods are advanced enough to show the form of the seed, there will be little or no danger of an injurious amount of "watery green herbage." Lime should always be applied when green crops are turned under.

The yield per acre varies according to the varieties and the method of cultivation. Eight to twelve bushels is a fair average of the amount that can be obtained when the peas are planted in corn rows. Sown alone, broadcast or in drills, yields from twenty to thirty-five and even, in rare cases, fifty bushels are obtained. The Black, Unknown, Red Ripper, Clay and Calico varieties are all heavy seed bearers. Lady and White Crowder are good for table use and also yield well. The Black-Eyed Red Crowder and Whippoor-will or Speckled are very widely cultivated and find ready sale. Those which make the largest growth of vines for green manure, as a winter soil mulch, for hay or soiling are the Unknown, Red Ripper, Southdown and Clay. Whippoor-will, Black-eyed, White and Red Crowder ripen in from twelve to fourteen weeks and hence are adapted to cultivation farther north than the very late, but ranker growing, Unknown, Wonderful, Red Ripper, Black, and Gourd varieties. The New Era and Lee ripen seed in from six to seven weeks, and hence are the ones to recommend for summer soiling crops in the upper prairie region of the Mississippi Valley, or anywhere else that an early maturing cow-pea is required. This is one of the species of cultivated plants which is very readily modified by change of habitat. Early and late maturing forms may be found of every strain that has been in cultivation for any considerable time.

The feeding value of cowpea vines is very high, as shown by both feeding tests and chemical analysis. As hay the vines are more valuable than if fed green for soiling purposes.

"When cowpeas are planted for green manure, it is an excellent practice to turn hogs into the field about the time that the first peas are ripening. Young pigs thrive amazingly on the succulent foliage and well-filled pods, and the quality of the pork raised on such a healthful and nutritious diet is very fine. This is a very profitable method of fattening hogs or preparing them for topping off with corn or sorghum for market. An acre of ripening cowpeas will pasture from fifteen to twenty hogs for several weeks, and the gain in fertility from the droppings of the animals during that period will more than counterbalance the fertilizing value of the foliage eaten. The rapid increase in weight will thus represent so much clear profit."

"As regards the disposal of the crop, there is a wide variation in practice. The feeding value of vines is great. But as between the practice of turning the vines under green in autumn and that of allowing them to lie on the ground during the winter, the latter is undoubtedly sometimes to be preferred, though theoretically wrong. Theoretically, to plow the vines under in autumn will be to save all the available nitrogen and convert the whole plant into humus. Practically, the turning under of so large an amount of watery green herbage, is highly injurious, causing too rapid decay and consequent burning or souring of the soil. The upper soil layers, freshly stirred and mellowed in autumn, lose more by leaching and washing than they do in an unplowed field covered by its winter mulch of decaying herbage, though in both cases there is a decided loss of fertility over what would result by following the peas with a crop of rye, winter wheat, the turf-forming winter vetch, or crimson clover. The yields of forage are better on rich soils than on poor ones, but the beneficial effects upon the succeeding crop due to the growth of this one are not so marked in the former case as in the latter."

Ours has been continually troubled with cold and chronic infantile diseases but I have found that the following simple remedy gives more temporary relief, until the tried Chamberlain's cold Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Since knowing that remedy he has not been troubled. We want to give you this testimonial as an evidence of our gratitude, not that you need it to advertise your meritorious remedy.—G. M. Law, Keokuk, Iowa. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, Drugist.

Brig. Gen. Theo. Schwart, U. S. A., who has been ordered to duty with the troops in the Philippines, said farewell to his friends in this city Wednesday prior to his departure for San Francisco, where he will embark for Manila.

He came recently to the latest winter wheat oasis FORTRESS ASH BATTERS. It keeps him strong in leverand bushes in particular.

The Alabama congressional delegation at a meeting in Tuscaloosa resolved unanimously to support Representative John H. Bankhead, of the Sixth Alabama district, for the speakership of the house of representatives.

CASTORIA.
Bears the Signature of Castor & Tandy.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The German Reichstag Wednesday passed the third reading of the bill providing for the prolongation of the Anglo-German Commercial treaty.

HAS NATURE WARNED YOU?
Bears the Signature of Castor & Tandy.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The German Reichstag Wednesday passed the third reading of the bill providing for the prolongation of the Anglo-German Commercial treaty.

WHITE'S CREAM WORMS! VERMIFUCE!
For 20 Years Has Led all Worm Remedies.

Sold by All Druggists.

Prepared by JAMES F. BALLARD, St. Louis.

FOR SALE BY R. C. HARDWICK.

W. G. WHEELER. W. H. Faxon.

Wheeler & Faxon,
Tobacco Warehousemen, Commission Merchants & Grain Dealers.

FIRE PROOF WAREHOUSE, COR. RUSSELLVILLE AND R. R. STS.

Hopkinsville, Ky.

Liberal Advances on Consignments. All Tobacco sent us Covered by Insurance.

SHIP YOUR TOBACCO TO —————

RAGSDALE COOPER & CO.,

MAIN STREET TOBACCO WAREHOUSE,

HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY.

R. E. COOPER, Salesman.

NAT GAITHER JAS. WEST

GAITHER & WEST,

TOBACCO * COMMISSION * MERCHANTS

HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

Liberal advances made on Tobacco. Four months' storage Free

KENDRICK & RUNYON,

Proprietors of

General Tobacco Warehouse

Clarksville, Tennessee.

We solicit the patronage of all who have Tobacco to sell

Free storage to shippers.

Cash Advances Made on Consignments

J. C. KENDRICK, SALESMAN.

F. C. HANBERT. M. F. SHRYER

PEOPLES' WAREHOUSE

HANBERT & SHRYER, Proprs.

Railroad St. Between Tenth and Eleventh.

Careful attention given to sampling and selling all tobacco consigned to us.

Liberal advances on tobacco in store. All tobacco insured unless otherwise instructed.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian.

Published Tuesday and Friday Mornings

CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

SUBSCRIPTION $1 A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

Local reading notices 20 cents per line.
Special rates 5 cents each insertion.
Rates for standing advertisements furnished on application.

OFFICES 212 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

TUESDAY, JULY 4, 1899.—

DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

For Governor,
WILLIAM GOEBEL,
of Kenton.

For Lieutenant Governor,
J. C. W. BECKHAM,
of Nelson.

For Attorney General,
ROBT. J. BRECKINRIDGE,
of Boyle.

For Auditor,
GUS G. COULTER,
of Graves.

For Treasurer,
S. W. HAGER,
of Boyd.

For Secretary of State,
C. BRECK HILL,
of Clark.

For Supt. Pub. Instruction,
H. V. McCHESEY,
of Livingston.

For Commissioner of Agriculture,
ION B. NALL,
of Jefferson.

For Railroad Commissioner,
J. FLETCHER DEMPSEY,
of Hopkins County.

A State Convention of the prohibition party will be held in Louisville August 1 and 2.

It is about time for the Louisville Dispatch to either shut up or shut down.

The "Boyz wanted" jokes applied to the late G. Cleveland a few years ago, are now being used on the Czar of Russia.

The Marion Gazette, the paper that discovered Judge Pratt as a gubernatorial candidate, has suspended publication.

May Hempstead was again beaten at Sheephead Bay Saturday by Admiration, losing a purse of $5,000 and a side bet of $5,000. She came in three lengths behind.

The Czar of Russia is suffering from his third disappointment in his desire for a male heir to the throne, which no female can occupy. His three children are all girls.

In spite of the increased tax burden of the people, the government deficit for the fiscal year is $88,875,689. The Republican party will have much to explain in 1900.

A thirteen-year-old boy, near Athens, Ga., who a few months ago killed his father and escaped prosecution for lack of evidence, has since murdered his sister and mother and fled.

C. C. Moore, editor of the Bluegrass Blade, who was sent to the Ohio federal penitentiary for printing obscene matter in his paper and sending it through the mails, has served out his term and was released Saturday.

"Bred In Old Kentucky" is the title of a new play by Ed Risley, the scene of which is laid in the Kentucky mountains. It was put on the boards in Louisville last week, Miss Eugenia Webb taking the leading character. The author is a Louisville boy.

The Courier-Journal and Times very promptly placed the Democratic rooster at the head of their editorial columns and are giving a hearty support to the entire ticket, nominated on a platform endorsing free silver, Wm. J. Bryan and Joe Blackburn.

Senator Geo. S. Fulton, a Goebel man who found himself in a Hardin district, was one of the members of the Executive Committee who failed to be re-elected. He retires from the Committee with the good opinion of all his associates and a record of faithful party service. Ben Ringo, his successor, is in every way worthy of the honor bestowed upon him.

The Messenger endeavors at all times to be careful of its facts, but its recent statement that Mr. Goebel was the author of the section in the new constitution that prohibits the consolidation of competing lines of railroads, it is now advised, was not true. That honor belongs to Hon. J. D. Clardy, of Christian county, and it is in entire keeping with the public record of the gentleman who for two terms, after his service in the constitutional convention made such an admirable record as a member of congress from the Second district.—Owensboro Messenger.

The Louisville Post quotes W. C. Owens as follows:

"I shall vote the straight Republican ticket this fall, and every friend I can influence will do the same. I shall in this way disapprove of the force, fraud and robbery of the Louisville convention."

Owens was a boisterous in 1896 and really had no business in the convention. This view of the matter was taken by the convention, and the Scott county delegation headed by Owens was unseated. Hence the cry of "fraud."

The welcome accorded Judge Breckinridge on his return home from Louisville, yesterday, was a fitting climax to his magnificent and successful race for the Attorney-Generalship. It attested the popularity of his nomination and was a demonstration that evidenced the intention of his home people to stand by him and through the efforts of a united party to make complete the honor that the Democracy of his state has bestowed upon him.—Danville Advocate.

The insurance companies have reached a point where they cannot resume business in Missouri until they lower their rates. On the other hand the companies, since the Appellate Court decision, boldly announce their purpose to form in Louisville one immense combine, embracing all of the agencies worth speaking of. Missouri may be called upon to tell the next Kentucky Legislature how she did it.

Allowing a hundred or two votes to "cover accidents," Torney Gin'll Bill Taylor now has enough instructed votes to secure the Republican nomination for Governor on the first ballot in the convention at Lexington July 12. To those who have never "heard or read of" Taylor it is only necessary to add that he is not quite as great a statesman as Broncho Franks.

Thirteen was not an unlucky number in Senator Goebel's case. He was nominated on the 26th ballot—two thirteens—and received 56½ votes, the figures and fraction added together, making the number 13. Furthermore the committees that passed upon the contestants, gave him the organization and endorsed the Goebel bill each had just 13 members.

Gus Coulter has reason to feel proud of his race for auditor. He got nearly 700 votes, more than were cast for any other candidate for any office. And that too in the face of the fact that his opponent on the last ballot was one of the best and most popular young Democrats in the State.

Another severe storm has occurred in Texas. A number of lives have been lost near Calvert, and five bodies have been recovered. Railroad bridges at both ends of the town were swept away by the flood. A great many people are destitute.

R. E. Richardson, Democrat, of Hart and L. J. Owen, Populist, of Grayson, members of the last Legislature, have been renominated.

$100 REWARD, $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure takes away the disease, destroying the foundation of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitutive nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offered One Hundred dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Said for list of testimonials. Address, F. J. CHENET & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggist No. 75.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

PRESS MEETING.

A Boat Excursion One of The Pleasant Features.

Chairman C. F. Kleiderer, of the Business Men's Association committee on reception and entertainment of the Kentucky Press Association, returned home last night and at once addressed himself to the task of completing arrangements for the excursion supper and concert which will be given on the evening of Tuesday, July 11. In pursuance of this purpose Mr. Kleiderer will call a meeting of the full committee for Monday morning, when he will lay before it the programme that the Business Men's Association authorized him to prepare.

The steamer Jewel has been chartered, and the contest calls for a trip to Green river and return, with the entire body of visitors, committees and special guests. A first class band has been engaged and supper ordered, and the visiting journalists will undoubtedly be agreeably occupied and entertained from the time they embark until they return to the wharfboat at Henderson. The Jewel has ample accommodation for 250 passengers, but Mr. Kleiderer does not expect more than 100 members of the association to attend, though the arrangements for entertainments will be of an elastic character and all who come will be hospitably cared for.—Henderson Journal.

VOLUNTEERS.

Wanted For Service in the War of Conquest.

Washington, June 29.—The first volunteers to be raised for service in the Philippines will be those of the skeleton regiments now being formed by Gen. Otis. It is not believed they will be the least difficult in obtaining these men. It is probable that some time will elapse before the troops of the provisional are sent to Manila, but meanwhile they will be drilled and taught marksmanship in camp. It is estimated that three months are required to make soldiers of new recruits.

If learned at the War Department that there is no actual rush to get the new organizations to Gen. Otis at the present time. The rainy season having set in, it is not believed that these troops will be necessary for service except to relieve those who had been on active duty.

The transport service is said to be sufficient, though ships may be chartered temporarily if needed.

The announcement that a portion of the provisional army was to be raised has caused a swarm of politicians to be sent to the war Department by those who are seeking commissions in the new regiments.

CARRETT NAMED.

The Princeton Banker Appointed Bank Examiner to Successor Escort.

Washington, June 30.—Mr. Robert D. Garrett, of Princeton, has been appointed Bank Examiner for the State of Kentucky to succeed Mr. Escott, who resigned. Mr. Garrett arrived last night and after an interview with the Controller this morning, was promised the post.

The total yield of wheat for the present year is variously estimated from 400,000,000 to 575,000,000 bushels, but the consensus of opinion of the most authentic statisticians places the production not above 550,000,000, which is a decrease, as compared with last year of 125,000,000 bushels.

QUARTERLY REPORT OF THE CITY BANK, Hopkinsville, Ky., AT THE CLOSE OF BUSINESS ON THE 30TH DAY OF JUNE, 1899.

RESOURCES.

Notes and Bills Discounted	$175,971.24
Stocks and Bonds	31,570.10
Bank Cash	1,000.00
Capitalized Profits	2,000.00
Set Aside to Pay Taxes	4,416.62
Set Aside to Pay Interest	1,000.00
Dividend No. 15 this day, 5 per cent	3,000.00
Individual Deposits	164,871.75
Total	$400,714.08

LIABILITIES.

Capital Stock	$100,000.00
Surplus and Undivided Profits	2,000.00
Real Estate for debt	7,555.10
Building and Equipment	1,000.00
Stock in Trade	69,061.92
Cash on Hand	17,212.83
Total	$164,671.85

W. T. Tandy, Cashier.

LIKES THE TICKET.

Dr. Clardy Says the Ticket is the Best that Could Have Been Named.

Hon. J. D. Clardy was in town yesterday and expressed much satisfaction over the Democratic ticket. Said he:

"I would have preferred to see our neighbor Capt. Stone nominated for Governor, but Mr. Goebel is a strong man and has a record above suspicion. I served with him in the constitutional convention and he always voted on the right side. He is young, able and honest and if elected, as he will be, will be Governor in name and fact. The ticket as a whole is made up of good clean men, representing all sections of the State, and combines every possible element of strength. Col. Nall will make the best agricultural commissioner the State has ever had, and I am especially gratified that he secured the nomination."

What among human ills are more annoying than piles? The afflictions that prevent active exercise are bad enough, but one that makes even rest miserable is worse. Women are among its chief sufferers. THE LER'S BUCKEYE PILE OINTMENT will cure the most obstinate cases. Price, 50cts, in bottle, tubes 75c. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

A MONEY FINDER.

Col. W. T. Kirkman, of this city, is not only a water witch, but a money witch as well. Three weeks ago Mr. Bailey Wright, a farmer near Claymore, lost while plowing, his purse, containing $5 in silver. Knowing the ability of Col. Kirkman to locate he sought him. The colonel took his rod, went to the field and in a little while kicked up the buried purse containing the $5. Mr. Wright divided the prize with the colonel and all are happy. Col. Kirkman will verify this statement.—Elkton Progress.

Imperfect digestions and assimilation produce disordered conditions of the system, which grow and are congenital to the stomach and cause food digestion. Price, 50cts. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

Merritt Farm Sold.

In the case of V. A. Merritt's administrator and others against Sam'l Bruff and others, Master Commissioner Rives on yesterday sold 132½ acres of land, near Bentzettown, for $1,225. Messrs. W. J. McGee and J. M. Miles were the purchasers.

To eradicate worms from the system give the child plain nourishing food and WHITE'S CREAM VERMIFUGE. The result will be, the worms will disappear and the child become healthy and cheerful. Price 25 cts. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

Kentucky Prohibitionists.

The Prohibition State Convention will be held in Louisville on August 1 and 2. The convention will probably be held in Music Hall, where the Democrats held their sessions. National Chairman Dickey, of Detroit, Mich., will preside. A full state ticket will be named. Anyone who will agree to be the nominee will be given a voice in the convention.

New Teacher at Kirkmansville.

Prof. C. H. Ellis has been secured to teach the public school at Kirkmansville, Todd county. Prof. E. will act as principal and Miss Laura Render, assistant. Prof. Ellis was one of the teachers in the Calhoun College during the scholastic year just closed, and the Star of that place speaks very highly of him.—Hartford Herald.

A Texas Wonder.

Hall's Great Discovery.

One small bottle of Hall's Great Discovery cures all kidney and bladder troubles, removes gravel, cures diabetes, seminal emissions, weak and lame back, rheumatism and all irregularities of the kidneys and bladder in both men and women. Relieves bladder trouble in children. If not sold by your druggist, will be sent to you on receipt of $1. One small bottle is two months' treatment and will cure any case above mentioned.

E. W. HALL, formerly Waco, Texas.

For sale by T. D. Armitage, Hopkinsville, Ky.

READ THIS.

Vicksburg, Miss., Dec. 8, 1898. I have tested Hall's Great Discovery and find it efficacious in the treatment of kidney and bladder troubles, having been a sufferer with stone in the bladder. I can truly certify to the remedy as a curative in such afflictions.

MOAYON'S BIG STORE.

Don't Fail to Attend

THE

MOAYON'S GREAT.. SALE.

All goods will be sold regardless of cost, nothing excepted or rejected. We will offer goods at prices never quoted by any merchant before.

Call and see for Yourselves.

MOAYONS' BIG STORE

GREAT

HANDKERCHIEF SALE

NOW ON.

20000 LADIES AND MENS

HANDKERCHIEFS AT ABOUT HALF PRICE.

GANT & SLAYDEN.

FOR

Peas, beans, potatoes, radishes, squash, lettuce, cucumbers, onions, asparagus, etc.

CALL ON US.

The freshest Vegetables on the market. Finest variety of Strawberries received daily.

Fresh Fish Fridays and Saturdays.

Hopkinsville Grocery Co.

204 South Main.

Telephone 11.

CHAMPION BINDERS AND MOWERS.

Binders Twine, Parry Buggies, Surrays and Phaetons, Old Hickory Wagons, Fertilizers, Barbed and Smooth Wire, Plows, Disc Harrows and Cultivators, Advance Threshers and Engines, Clover, Grass and Oat Seeds.

Our stock of Harness and Saddles is complete.

Yours to please,

CUS YOUNG.

Show Old She Looks

Poor clothes cannot make you look old. Even pale cheeks won't do it. Old clothes don't look good. It is impossible to look young with the color of seventy years in your hair.

Ayer's Hair Vigor

permanently postpones the tell-tale signs of age. It brings back the color of youth, and it keeps you looking as it did at fifteen. It thickens the hair also, stops it from falling out, and gives it a fine, dark, healthy, $1.00 a bottle. At all druggists.

If you do not obtain all the benefits of Ayer's Hair Vigor, return it to us. Write the doctor about it.

Address, DR. J. C. AyER, Louisville, Mass.

AS TO STREET NUMBERS.

Any Attempt To Change The System Unauthorized.

The statement in a local paper that a party from another city claims to have numbered the city of Hopkinsville on a system of his own, with the intention of getting out a directory, makes it necessary to warn the public that the proposed change in numbers is without any authority from the city council. In 1884 an ordinance was passed numbering the houses on the Philadelphia system, which allows 100 to the block, beginning at a central point and numbering in four directions. When the subject of numbering was brought up in the council two months ago, in anticipation of free delivery, the council appointed a special committee composed of Messrs. Wall, Dalton and Tibbs to attend to the matter. This committee after careful consideration, and after correspondence with government officials in Washington and Cincinnati, to satisfy themselves that the present plan was the "Philadelphia system," decided to make no change.

About 600 numbers are already up in the city and capable canvassers have measured the lots and assigned the proper numbers to unnumbered houses. This work has been done under the proper authority and the property owners and city officials have been or will be supplied with duplicate numbers. The numbers are in accordance with an ordinance and can only be changed by an ordinance repealing the existing one.

In order that the public may fully understand the worthlessness of any publication using different numbers, we herewith give an official statement from Councilman Wall, of the numbering committee:

TO PROPERTY OWNERS.

The numbering of houses being done by representatives of Meacham's Municipal Directory, is by the authority of the city council.

Any numbering different from this is without authority.

J. T. WALL,
Chair. Special Committee.

FAMILY REUNION.

Blakeley Brothers Will Hold a Reunion To-day at Gracey.

Gracey, Ky., July 3.—The Blakeley family will hold a reunion at Mr. J. D. Blakeley's to-morrow that will be attended by the six Blakeley brothers and their children and grand-children. The six brothers are J. D. Blakeley and J. J. Blakeley, of Gracey; Dr. W. H. Blakeley, of Bowling Green; Chas. Blakeley, of Morton's Gap; E. F. Blakeley, of Madisonville; and Lee Blakeley, of Henderson.

The youngest of the brothers is now well along in middle life and nearly all of them have children grown and married. All of the brothers are men of standing and eminence in their respective communities. They represent the entire family except one sister, who has been dead many years.

Miss Lizzie Nance, of Pee Dee, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Parish Meacham.

Miss Ruby Powell, of Caldwell county, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. B. W. Cowherd.

Miss Pattie Bartley, of Hopkinsville, is visiting relatives here.

CITY TAXES DUE.

City taxes for 1890 are now due and in my hands for collection.

WHITSITT'S SUCCESSOR.

Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of Boston, Chosen President.

Rev. Dr. E. Y. Mullins, of the Newton Center Baptist church, Boston, was on Thursday, unanimously elected President of the Baptist Theological Seminary of Louisville.

Dr. E. Y. Mullins is forty-two years of age. He was born in Texas and was employed as a telegraph operator in various parts of the State till 1885, when he decided to prepare for the ministry. He matriculated in the seminary. On graduating with distinction he was called to the Baptist church at Harrodsburg. From there he went to Baltimore and later went to Richmond, Va., to act as Associate Secretary of the Foreign Mission Board. From there he went to the First Baptist church of Newton Center, Mass., where he now is.

While pastor of the Harrodsburg church he married Miss May Hawley, of this city. His wife has made valuable contributions to Baptist literature of the day. The selection of Dr. Mullins will meet almost universal favor in local Baptist circles.

LEONARD-CABANNE.

Miss Minnie Leonard Married at Metropolis to J. S. Cabanne.

In spite of the objections of Barker Leonard, of Eddyville, to the marriage of his daughter, Miss Minnie, to Mr. J. S. Cabanne, of St. Louis, those determined young lovers were married at Metropolis this morning, and are now probably enroute to the home of Mr. Cabanne in St. Louis.

A telegram to the News this afternoon conveyed intelligence of the marriage, but no details of the third and successful elopement were given.

Miss Leonard had been the guest in this city of Miss Elizabeth Sinnott, but Mr. Cabanne's presence in the city was not known.

This young couple made two sensational but unsuccessful attempts to get married a few months ago at Indianapolis and Louisville.—Paducah News June 26.

HARD ON DRUMMERS.

Trusts Have Left 35,000 of Them Unemployed.

Albany, N. Y., July 1.—President Dowe in his annual address to the Commercial Travelers' Association in convention here dwelt on the effect of trusts upon commercial travelers and what the commercial travelers should do under the circumstances. He declared that he had obtained from the best possible and most reliable sources that 35,000 commercial travelers had been thrown out of work through trusts and that 25,000 had had their salaries reduced. One in every ten was affected.

In order that the public may fully understand the worthlessness of any publication using different numbers, we herewith give an official statement from Councilman Wall, of the numbering committee:

TO PROPERTY OWNERS.

The numbering of houses being done by representatives of Meacham's Municipal Directory, is by the authority of the city council.

Any numbering different from this is without authority.

J. T. WALL,

Chair. Special Committee.

FAMILY REUNION.

Blakeley Brothers Will Hold a Reunion To-day at Gracey.

Gracey, Ky., July 3.—The Blakeley family will hold a reunion at Mr. J. D. Blakeley's to-morrow that will be attended by the six Blakeley brothers and their children and grand-children. The six brothers are J. D. Blakeley and J. J. Blakeley, of Gracey; Dr. W. H. Blakeley, of Bowling Green; Chas. Blakeley, of Morton's Gap; E. F. Blakeley, of Madisonville; and Lee Blakeley, of Henderson.

The youngest of the brothers is now well along in middle life and nearly all of them have children grown and married. All of the brothers are men of standing and eminence in their respective communities. They represent the entire family except one sister, who has been dead many years.

Miss Lizzie Nance, of Pee Dee, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Parish Meacham.

Miss Ruby Powell, of Caldwell county, is spending the week with her sister, Mrs. B. W. Cowherd.

Miss Pattie Bartley, of Hopkinsville, is visiting relatives here.

CITY TAXES DUE.

City taxes for 1890 are now due and in my hands for collection.

A SLUGGISH BRAIN . . .

Is caused by Imperfect Digestion and Disorder in the Liver and Bowels.

PRICKLY ASH BITTERS

IS A BOON TO BRAIN WORKERS.

It purifies the bowels, strengthens and regulates the liver, aids digestion, promotes vigor of body, cheerfulness and mental activity.

SOLD BY ALL DRUGGISTS.

PRICE $1.00 PER BOTTLE.

DR. F. P. THOMAS

REPORT OF THE CONDITION

OF THE

First - National - Bank

at Hopkinsville, Kentucky,

at the close of business

JUNE 30, 1890.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts.....$11,649.57

U. S. Bonds to secure circulation.....16,000.00

U. S. Bonds to hand.....10,000.00

Banking-house, Furniture and Fixtures.....9,111.35

Due from National Banks (not Reserve Agents).....1,000.00

Due from State Banks and Trust Companies.....1,824.44

Due from individuals and others.....1,125.00

Checks and other cash items.....4,077.50

Fraction of other National currency, nickel.....9,713.00

Frank and coins.....4,144.44

Law suits.....1,000.00

Specie.....$13,145.00

Legally tender notes.....4,000.00

Unpaid dividends on stocks.....37,148.00

Unpaid dividends on bonds.....1,000.00

5 per cent. of circulation.....720.00

Due to State Banks and Banks.....1,000.00

Individual Deposits subject to check.....151,322.39

Total.....$285,493.50

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock paid in.....$ 50,000.00

Surplus fund.....10,000.00

Salaries paid.....2,840.43

State taxes paid.....1,000.00

Interest on loans outstanding.....14,000.00

Due to other National Banks.....1,000.00

Due to State Banks and Banks.....4,974.51

Due to individuals.....1,000.00

Dividends paid.....1,000.00

Individual Deposits subject to check.....151,322.39

Total.....$285,493.50

STATE OF KENTUCKY. RESOURCES.

at the close of business on the 30th day of June 1890.

RESOURCES.

Loans and Discounts, less loans to Directors.....$15,054.16

Loans to Directors (officers not included).....2,957.58

Overdrafts, unsecured.....3,271.93

Due from State Banks and Banks.....10,000.00

"I feel as if I should fly to pieces." How often those words are on a woman's lips. They express to the utmost the nerve failing condition of the body, which makes life a daily martyrdom.

If this condition had come suddenly it would have been unbearable, but the transition was gradual. A little more each day on the average. A little more drain each day of the vitality. Any woman would be glad to be rid of such a condition. Every woman tries to be rid of it. Thousands of such women have been cured by Dr. Pierces "Favorit Prescription" when local doctors had entirely failed to cure.

Sick women suffering from unpleasant drains, irregularities, bearing down pains, inflammation and ulceration are invited to consult Dr. Pierces, N.Y., by letter. His "Favorit Prescription" is guarded as a sacred confidence. All letters are promptly answered and mailed in private envelopes without printing of any kind upon them.

"Favorit Prescription" is in the full est name a temperance medicine containing neither alcohol nor opium or other narcotic in any form. Accept no substitutes.

Mrs. Anna Hensel of Massillon, Stark Co., Ohio, writes: "I had been suffering from constipation and female weakness and tortured with different physicians, none of whom seemed to have any good results. I did not know what to do and I thought I would try your medicines. I did and with good results. Took one bottle of Dr. Pierces' 'Favorit Prescription' and his 'Golden Medical Discovery' and I can say I am now in my troubles again. I wrote to Dr. Pierces and his medicine. They do a work of good to those who write them a good trial."

Dr. Pierces' Pleasant Pellets are a perfect cure for constipation.

The pea crop is said to be one of the best that can be grown in the State, especially for cattle and sheep.

DIGEST YOUR FOOD.

Fifteen per cent of all sickness is caused by food not properly digested; it creates poisons and gives you pain and cramps liable to almost any disease the human system can conceive. Take Dr. Otto's Spruce Gum Balsam and wash the results. You will find the good effects after taking one dose.

Dr. Otto's Spruce Gum Balsam Cures Your Cough, Just the Medicine for Children.

For sale by

Anderson & Fowler.

Boilermaker Jeffries has succeeded in making a good deal of noise in the world.

There Are Others.

There are other chill tonics than "Dr. Mendenhall's Chill and Fever Cure," but if you purchase a bottle of this remedy and are not convinced that it is the best chill tonic you have ever used your money will be refunded by R. C. Hardwick, druggist. Price 50 cents.

If there is such a thing as future punishment, will not the bicycle rust people severely scorched?

BAY CENTER, N. D., Mar. 21, 1898. For years I have been troubled with inflammatory rheumatism, and last winter was confined to my bed helpless. I began taking Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm and applied locally the Volcanic Oil Liniment and was completely cured. J. Allison. For sale by C. W. Wyly.

The jokes about the Filipino running away would be funnier if he didn't return to shoot.

If your brain won't work right and you miss the snap, vim and energy that was once yours, you should take PRICKLY ASH BITTERS. It cleanses the system and invigorates both body and brain.

The baby born in a St. Louis drug store will doubtless require a good deal of paregoric.

"During the hot weather last summer I had a severe attack of cholera morbus, necessitating my leaving my business," says Mr. C. A. Hale, of Hale Bros., Fincastle, Ohio. "After taking a few or three doses of Cham berlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy I was completely relieved and in a few hours was able to resume my work in the store. I sincerely recommend it to any one afflicted with stomach or bowel trouble. For sale by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

Did you know cake would be improved over so much if you placed something in the oven while baking it to create steam? If you have cold beans warm them in the oven while you're baking.

"I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family for years and always with good results," says Mr. W. C. Cooper of El Rio, Cal. "For small children we find it especially effective." For sale by R. C. Hardwick, druggist.

If you give me a knife, give me a fork too.

The L. & N. will sell round-trip tickets to Richmond, Va., at one fare July 11th, 12th and 13th, good returning until and on July 31st. An extension of final limit to leave Richmond on or before Aug. 15 may be obtained by depositing tickets with Joint Agent at Richmond on or before July 28th and on payment of fee of 50 cents.

I. M. ADAMS, Agent.

AMERICAN LIBERTY.

Newton's Oration

A Fourth of July Dilemma.

THE LIBERTY BLOSSOMS and vent upon American soil were to day celebrated, and whose principle of the greatest good to the greatest number is to be making government the engine rather than the lash and terror of the people, was the lass and terror of these dim Teutonic forests where our ancient home defendeth the weak and the poor, and used for the protection of their ancient privileges. In its feeble childhood it needed isolation for its development, and was transplanted by the hand that guided it to the soil of America, where institutions of government had an unbroken growth until the rights of the alien king authority, and upon the field of battle where the banner of the claim of the common man to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness was maintained by sturdy and doughy deeds.

In this crucial year of our nation's history, a year that has been marked by the death of a statesman and a leader, and by a party that for a century has guided our law-makers and statesmen, our thoughts are more and more to the history of liberty, and we draw lessons from the progress of free government.

Our banner has been planted upon the faraway islands of the Pacific and upon the beautiful tropic lands of the southern seas, as a message to the world that the rule of man is to trample over the wrongs of tyranny, and that liberty and justice is not complete until the world is girded.

Those who stand in the way of civilization must go down before the forces of progress, and the diehard who stand in the way of history is blinded by the white light of our own day, the survival of the fittest is nature's law.

While America's share in the world's civilization, the coldest heart must be thrilled with the glory of her deeds and the grandeur of the position achieved by adherence to exalted ideals. While caring over the welfare of the world, the American colonists laid deep and broad the foundations of a nation whose principles of individual right are almost identical with those of our Teutonic ancestors, and thus justly claim to be the fruit of Anglo-Saxon ideas.

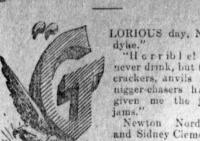

It was this spirit of individualism that brought forth the soldiers and statesmen of the war of independence. The democracy of the United States is the birthright of the common man at Runnymede, fought for worthy successors in men who fought at Bunker Hill to preserve liberty. Transplanted to American soil, the seed of freedom sown here has rooted itself in the soil of Americanism and European constitutionalism, as well as American liberty, was the fruit of.

In its infancy, democracy was content to hold sway in the frontier territories of the western continent, and to assert that European monarchy should be denied the privilege of aggression theron. In its manhood this same democracy recognizes its duty and responsibility in the task of mankind and the dissemination of that Christian civilization, in which its own strength rests.

The brain of democracy evolved the principles of self-government, labor and property by procuring for it leisure for self-cultivation. It brought forth the telegraph, and all the applications of steam, and has made all men brothers by uniting them in the cause of progress.

It has saved the world from the web of tradition from church and state, and has made itself the recognized power in commerce and science. In little more than a hundred years it has become the leader of the world in every field of achievement, its greatest merit is not content to rest upon its laurels nor pause in its endeavor.

Sensible of its solemn obligation to its own people, it has never permitted the fate of within its keeping, cut off of the loyalty of its great thinking effective masses, America faces the future fearlessly and with an unfaltering trust in the Most High God who has the nation in His hands and has plotted out a safe path for the nation in perfecting man and making him worthy of an immortal soul. LOU V. CHAPIN.

LORIOUS day, Nor dyne.

"Terrible! I never heard of such a day before, but the stars, suns and moon-godesses have given me the jitters."

Newton Nordyke and Sidney Clemmons, late college class-mates and graduate honor-winners, had met at a railway junction, and it was here that he was bound for his home to the east.

"I'm saving money to buy a house in Charlotte, 20 miles west, where he was booked to deliver a Fourth of July oration that afternoon.

"I'm almost crazy, Clemmons," said the latter, after announcing his mission. "I expect to be here in time to receive the invitation, but I am an applicant for the position of principal of the Charlotte schools."

"You ought to have written out your speech."

"I did, for I can't memorize," and Nordyke produced a manuscript.

"Let me see it, please, glances over my shoulder, and I'll give you a copy of Herschel's 'Twelve Lost Comets'."

"I hope to break into the woods with it, and then I'll get a copy of 'Twelve Lost Comets'."

"The little stream of blood that began to trickle down the sides of the large gray and massive mountain on which I sat became a mighty— I think well— flood. It will carry them off their feet and sweep you along with them."

"Give the speech a fair and even hearing. There's your train. Good by."

The Charlotte depot Nordyke was met by an enthusiastic delegation, headed by Squire Hawkins, chairman of the school board, and supported by a thousand boys and barking dogs, was driven through fire and smoke, to the fair grounds.

From his chair upon the improvised platform Nordyke, a man of nervous energy, held the audience in suspense until the vast audience.

"I have now the pleasure," announced Squire Hawkins, who acted as chairman, "to introduce the orator of the day, Mr. Newton Nordyke, a young man and rising young scholar, who will address you."

"He paused and looked at the manuscript that Newton was unfolding—"on the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."

"How dare you, young man as he realized that he had exchanged papers with Clemmons.

The preliminary audience was subduing; "What can he do?" The truth is, however, that of his widowed mother seemed to rise before him and he formed a sudden resolution.

"'Fellow citizens,' he began, 'you are all patriots, you are all heroes, you are all the pride of your country, the future of your glorious nation.'

"Pardon, sir, you are all heroes, the innovation that today, I am engaged, the Twelve Lost Comets of Herschel did the business—Newton."</p

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

Increasing Cloudiness.

Louisville, Ky., July 3.—(Special)—Fair to-night. Increasing cloudiness Tuesday.

HERE AND THERE.

Grape Bags for sale at this office.

There are only three prisoners confined in the county jail.

—Dr. E. N. Fruitt, Dentist, office over City Bank, Hopkinsville, Ky.

—Some nice family horses, drivers and roadsters for sale at Layne's stable.

A desirable residence with large yard, garden and orchard on South Virginia street to rent. W. W. W. RAE.

Two registered prescribers at Anderson & Fowler's and prescriptions compounded day or night.

When wanting a nice package of chocolates and bon-bons call at Anderson & Fowler's and get the Flows' brand, the best on market.

Fine Watch Repairing, Diamond Mounting, &c. Old gold taken in exchange.

R. C. HARDWICK.

Mr. J. T. Hargrove, who has been with L. L. Elgin for several months, can now be found with the popular drug house of Anderson & Fowler, where he will be glad to have his friends call.

No cure, no pay, that is the way Porter's Antiseptic Healing Oil is sold for Barbed Ware Cuts, Burns, Scratches, Cracked Heel, Saddle Galls, Old Sores and all kinds of inflammations on man or beast. Price, 25 cents.

Wheat Advancing.

On account of holiday yesterday and to-day there will be no markets until to-morrow. July wheat opened in Chicago Saturday at 73c and closed at 74c. September wheat opened at 74½c and closed at 75½c. September corn opened at 34½c and closed at 34½c.

Annual Excursion to Old Point.

The date has been set for August 9th, which is the date of departure for the excursionists and this being the cheapest and best trip offered to summer excursionists, those who expect to take a trip should arrange to go. Further details will be given in these columns later. The ticket will be good for three weeks.

Fanciers Meet To-night.

The breeders of thoroughbred poultry will meet at the Kentuckian office to-night for the purpose of organizing a poultry association and considering the advisability of holding a poultry show next winter.

Aged Eighty-Four.

Prof. John Dicken, col., died in the city last Thursday night, at the extreme old age of 84. He was a member of the colored Odd Fellows Lodge and for a number of years taught in the county colored schools.

Henry Koehler & Company,
Lumber Dealers of Louisville, Ky., invite correspondence with Mill men who have lumber for sale. They buy POPLAR and HARWOODS in mixed cars, DRY OR GREEN. Write them.

Fine Farm For Sale.

100 acres, 25 acres in timber, balance cleared—situated on Fairview pike, near Little River church.

Apply to W. P. Qualls,
Hopkinsville, Ky.

Has Broken Dirt.

Dr. T. W. Blakey has begun work on his new residence on the handsome lot recently purchased on the west side of Main street.

Pembroke Church Dedication.

The new Methodist church at Pembroke was dedicated Sunday and a very large crowd was present on the occasion. Dinner was served on the grounds. Quite a number of people from this city attended.

Dr. Piner as an Elocutionist.

Rev. W. K. Piner gave an eloquentary entertainment at Earlington last night. The Bee says of him:

"Dr. Piner is an elocutionist of rare ability. As an entertainer he has few equals and no superiors. He has given recitals in many Kentucky towns, and they have always been highly spoken of by the people who have been fortunate enough to hear them."

PERSONAL GOSSIP.

Misses Sallie and Lee Campbell are sojourning at Dawson.

Miss Marion Yates, of Texas, is visiting her brother, Dr. T. G. Yates.

Misses Ora and Edith Collie, of Louisville, Ky., are visiting Miss Ida Carliss, near the city.

Mrs. R. C. Hardwick and little daughters, have returned from a visit to Dawson Springs.

Mr. Robt. Offutt, the Courier Journal's hustling traveling representative, was in town Saturday.

□ Miss Rowena Wall has returned from a visit to Nashville, accompanied by her cousin, Miss Susie Badger.

□ Mesdames Nannie Moore, Eugene Wood and Eliza A. Clark have gone to California on a two months' visit.

Judge M. D. Brown went to Louisville yesterday on legal business. He will visit Indiana before his return.

□ Mr. Jno. H. Bell and daughter, Mrs. Bible, Mr. W. P. Qualls and Mr. W. R. Howell are at Dawson this week.

Miss Carrie Weir, of Monmouth, Ill., who has been visiting Miss Annie Nauke, of Pee Dee, for three weeks has returned home.

□ Mr. W. T. Thornton, who numbered the houses of the city, about two and a half years ago, was here this week. He is now traveling for a St. Louis engraving firm.

AUGUST 9.

The Date Fixed For The Old Point Trip.

That most delightful of all summer trips, the Old Point Comfort outing, will be taken again this year and the date of departure has been fixed for Wednesday, August 9. Already there have been numerous inquiries from all sections around concerning the date and other particulars and from present indications the crowd this year will exceed in number that of previous years. This is without question, the most pleasant trip that could be taken from this section, for a summer jaunt, and the people are never slow to avail themselves of the opportunity to go.

The elegant manner in which these personally conducted Seashore specials are operated has so impressed the people with their grandness that the mere announcement of another is always hailed with delight. The trip this year will be similar to those taken in the past and further particulars will be given as the time of departure approaches.

MUSIC IN THE AIR.

Italian Band Arrives at the Arcadia Hotel, Dawson.

An excellent Italian band has been employed by the Arcadia Hotel management at Dawson Springs and will remain at that popular place until the season of 1899 closes. Lovers of fine music can rest assured that when they stop at the Arcadia they will hear the choicest selections rendered.

Knocked Him Senseless.

Mr. Charles Young, the plumber, met with a painful accident Saturday morning, but his injuries are not of a very serious nature. While at work on Mr. J. W. Yancey's new building he slipped and fell from the roof. His head struck projecting timbers and he was rendered unconscious for several minutes.

New Mill at Lafayette.

Lafayette, Ky., July 3.—The foundation for the new flouring mill at this place has been begun. When completed the mill will be run by J. S. Lycan. It will be first-class and up-to-date in every respect.

Is your liver tired? Does it fail to do its duty? If so, don't neglect its call for help. A few doses of HERBINE may save you a spell of sickness. HERBINE is the only perfect liver medicine. It cures Chills and Fever. Price 50 cts. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

AT CERULEAN.

Sunday Visitors to That Delightful Resort.

Following is a list of those who spent Sunday at Cerulean Springs: C. H. Jean, Max J. Monayon, L. C. Ragsdale, C. F. Jarrett, L. P. Guthrie, Geo. H. Smith, J. D. Hardin, D. H. Thomason, Leslie P'Pool, W. M. Hancock and wife, Miss Willie Carr, J. E. Moseley, J. D. Ware and family, Miss Bessie Richards, Upshaw Woodbridge, Archie S. Gant, C. A. Thompson, Will Foster, Jas. A. Radford, Jo. K. Gant, H. G. Wood, Ross Elgin, Jas. McClure, Dick Anderson, Miss Dee Anderson, Miss Lady Cofer, Herbert Hayden, W. R. Long, Adolph Lipman, Max J. Mendel, Geo. Trice, A. D. Jones, W. D. Davis, S. N. Johnson, Geo. W. Phelps, H. P. Thomas, Hopkinsville.

Miss Julia Purcell, Miss Lottie Rascoe, W. L. Purcell, Jno. W. T. Williams, J. T. Trahern, Thos. Terry, Lafayette.

Jno. Lawrence, Jno. Blane, Wallace Shaw, Ed. McCarty, Claude Manning, Tip Rawlins, Wallace Hancock, Cadiz.

Miss Willie Miller, Mayfield.

HOT TIME PROMISED.

Some Excessive Heat Predicted For July by Hicks.

July 2nd to 4th rising temperature, accompanied by showers in many sections. Very warm from 8th to 12th, with unsettled weather conditions much of the time. Many parts of the country will get rain during this period, especially in central and southern states. A coal wave of short duration will follow. Change to much warmer about 15th, with cloudiness, bluster and show of rain. From 19th to 23rd a very excessive wave of summer heat will prevail, accompanied by threatening clouds and summer thunder-gusts. General thunder storms, with high winds and many local rains, will follow at the breaking up of this "heated term." From 27th to 31st a return to very warm, with cloudiness and bluster, but with little rain.

Mrs. W. P. Qualls is visiting friends in Elkhorn this week.

Price Our
Fruit Jars,
Soaps,
Extracts,
Tobaccos,
AND
Queens=ware.
W. T. Cooper
& CO.
Wholesale
& Retail
GROCERS.

Summer Calls For

Window Shades,
Wall Paper,
Door and Window Screens,
Cream Freezers,
Ice Chests,
Water Coolers,
Hammocks,
Lawn Swings,
Fishing Tackle,
Bath Tubs,
Lawn Mowers,
Fine Carriages & Traps

Every thoughtful owner of stock has a large lump of RETSOFF ROCK SALT in his manger, horse lot and pasture. This enables his stock to get salt all the time without getting too much, which sometimes proves fatal. We have just received a car load of it. It's the only pure salt obtainable. It will last a long time in the weather.

Another Car of Stock Peas

just received. Clover has been so uncertain for several years our farmers are planting peas as a substitute. They are fine for feed and fertilizer.

We have a very full stock of FERTILIZER FOR TOBACCO also, and can supply you right out of our warehouses.

Very Truly,

FORBES & BRO.

DEATH OF CAPT. COLLINS.

A Native of Christian County Passes Away in Texas.

Information has just been received here concerning the death of Capt. Alex P. Collins, which occurred in Greer County, Texas, June 10. Capt. Collins was a native of this county, having been raised near Lafayette, and was for some time a member of the tobacco warehouse firm of Ragsdale & Collins, in this city. He was a brother of Mr. T. F. Collins and a brother-in-law of Mr. C. H. Bush.

He had been sick for several months and death was caused from a complication of troubles. He was about sixty years old and leaves a wife and four children, two sons and two daughters.

WHITE SCREAM VERMIFUGE not only effectively expels worms, but is certain and permanent cure for Chills and Fever in children. Price 25 cts. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

Lost His Diamond.

Mr. W. A. Wilgus lost a fine diamond scarf pin from his necktie Saturday. It was a very handsome jewel, the diamond being set in a white star. It was presented to him several years ago by one of the Old Point excursion parties and was very highly prized.

It was recovered yesterday, a lady having found it and restored it to its owner.

Those who live on farms are liable to many accidental cuts, burns and bruises, which heal rapidly when BALLARD'S SNOW LINIMENT is promptly applied. Price 25 and 50 cts. Sold by R. C. Hardwick.

SPECIAL SALE FOR

THIS WEEK

...ONLY...

We will sell you a set of Rogers Knives and Forks for $3.19.

PLENTY FOR EVERYBODY.

Also a lot of triple plated Silver Knives and Forks, per set

$1.69.

THOMPSON & BASSETT

Monuments.

It is nonsense to believe that you can buy of some agent as cheap as you can of your home shop, where you get the best marble and granite at the lowest possible price. If you will call and see our work and get our prices you will find yourself well paid for the trouble. Yours truly,

ROBT. H. BROWN,

7th and Virginia Streets, Hopkinsville, Ky.